

MyBnk

ANNUAL REVIEW
2015

Creating a financially capable and enterprise driven generation

Welcome to the frontline of financial and enterprise education for young people!

Why?

Managing money well opens up new opportunities. For a young person leaving care, knowing how to budget for a weekly shop can help them live independently for the first time in their lives. For an aspiring young entrepreneur, it might mean at last having the skills to get their business off the ground. Whatever their background, whatever their goals, MyBnk helps put young people in control of their money and their dreams within reach. We call it investing in their future.

Who?

We are an award-winning UK charity that teaches young people how to manage their money effectively and set up their own enterprises. We design and deliver programmes for 11-25 year olds in schools and youth organisations.

Our Values

#YouthAtTheHeart of @MyBnk, why do we do it? It's all about the young people #obvs.

#Impact @MyBnk, always delivering the best possible outcomes for young people #quality.

#LaughAsYouLearn @MyBnk bringing money & enterprise to life for young people, staying fresh, focused and fun.

#StraightUp @MyBnk, telling it how it really is - helping young people make informed decisions.

Our Mission:

"To empower young people to take charge of their future by bringing money and enterprise to life."

CEO's & Trustees' Welcome

It has been another remarkable year for MyBnk, as personal finance lessons became embedded in England's National Curriculum for the first time.

We armed 32,000 young people with practical skills, brought 400 enterprise ideas from drawing board to market place, and helped 2,244 vulnerable young adults move into independent living and deal with debt.

Our impact was recognised as The Money Advice Service gave our flagship programme, Money Twist, the highest effectiveness rating of any financial capability project for young people in the UK.

Thanks to our expert-led workshops, there was a 37% increase in students understanding of tax, insurance, credit, interest rates and the impact of inflation. We also saw a 18% rise in positive attitudes towards money and a 23% jump in skills. Teachers also recognised the benefit of outside help, with 78% rating our content as very valuable.

We expanded West to Devon, trained organisations from France and Turkey to deliver our programmes in Africa and Asia, and won the Leaving Care Award from Children & Young People Now magazine.

MyBnk has a fantastically full year ahead, including our very first project on the south coast of England. We thank and look forward to welcoming young people, new partners and supporters on this journey.

Message from MyBnk's Chair of Trustees

Being the Chair of MyBnk is a great privilege and a great joy. What we do reaches far into the lives of young people as they take on new responsibilities and make key choices.

This work is even more vital for those vulnerable young people who are already in debt and for whom money is a toxic subject. That is why we supported an 87% rise in delivery for these participants, such as those in the care system and young offender institutes.

This year's report is a celebration of all the hard and vital work on the frontline, as we help tackle some of the root causes of poverty and empower young people to make informed decisions.

Programmes

Together with young people, we have created high impact, high-energy workshops on topics such as saving, budgeting, survival money management, public finance, social enterprise and start-up entrepreneurship. Ideal for Citizenship, PSHE, Maths and Business Studies teachers, off-timetable days or out-of-school provision, programmes are closely mapped to the national curriculum and assist in meeting OFSTED's Common Inspections Framework.

Financial Education

Money Twist (Key Stage 3 & 4+5)

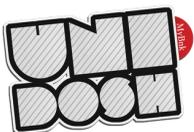

Award-winning programmes covering practical and relevant everyday financial matters including budgeting, needs vs wants, tax, consumer choice, interest, pensions and inflation.

Sporty Money Twist

An innovative blend of active games and discussion that communicates key financial messages like budgeting, tax and consumer choice in a physical, fun and effective way.

Uni Dosh

A targeted two-hour workshop for those about to leave school or college and considering moving on to university. Offers a comprehensive overview of student finance, bursaries and the cost of living.

Money Works

Money Works is a four-part programme for young adults moving into independent living to confront their money worries.

Money Advice Service

A one-to-one advice service offering independent, sales and jargon-free advice on all matters relating to personal finance.

Enterprise Education

Back My Business

A school-based enterprise experience using real money where young people are challenged to create businesses. They compete for 0% interest loans and MyBnk support in making their idea a reality.

Enterprise-in-a-Box

Featuring exclusive ethical products, this is a step-by-step guide to setting up a social enterprise. Workshops take participants on the journey of making a profit whilst helping people and the planet.

Business Battle

From drawing board to market in one week. Young people create, implement and evaluate their own business in a competitive environment using real money in a real community marketplace.

Mind Your Own Business

An entrepreneurial journey to rocket boost employability skills. This unique accredited programme gives young people hands on experience of developing an idea from conception to marketplace alongside corporate challenges.

Youth-led banking scheme

MyBnk-in-a-Box

Young people are trained to run their own online and on site school bank. A safe, accessible place to save regularly and borrow interest free loans to set up enterprises.

The Need

Everyone needs to be able to manage their money, that is just common sense. But for young people the inability to do so has serious consequences. For them, it is easier to fall into debt, be scammed, make uninformed decisions and establish bad money habits. The need for effective financial education is now a right – especially for vulnerable young people.

Financial Education

- 48% of 18-25 year olds owe on average £3,000. (Not including student loans or mortgages).
- 59% of students in compulsory education do not receive any form of structured financial education.
- Tens of thousands of undergraduates and 5,400 postgraduates depend on payday lenders.
- By the close of 2016, the average UK household is predicted to owe close to £10,000 (PwC). The Citizens Advice Bureaux deal with over 6,000 debt problems every working day.

Sources: Go Compare, ifs University College, Save the Student, 2015.

When MyBnk started in 2007, just 10% of UK adults had received any form of financial education. Today 41% of students do. MyBnk joined others in successfully campaigning to get money lessons on to England's national curriculum, up to GCSE level. However, given timetabling pressures, the absence of extra funding and limited specialist training, evidence and experience tells us schools are struggling to become experts and deliver impactful lessons. Moreover, 50% of students in academies, sixth forms, colleges and free and independent schools are not required to be taught money skills. This is against a backdrop where 39% of teachers feel financial education, as it is currently taught, will make no difference to how young people see monetary issues (Nationwide).

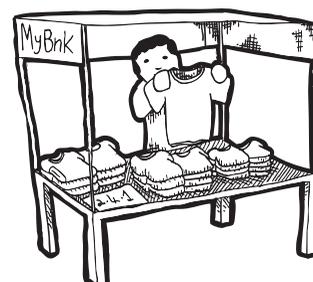

Enterprise Education

- Number of young people setting up own business has halved.
- Only 7% of young people overcome fear of starting own enterprise.
- Lack of soft skills will cost UK economy £8.4 billion a year by 2020.
- One in three long-term unemployed young people have contemplated suicide.

Sources: RBS, Princes Trust, McDonalds.

Young people can now expect to have nine jobs over the course of a 48-year career (LV=Insurance). Yet, there is a chronic skills gap contributing to a stubbornly high unemployment rate of nearly a million 18-24 year olds - 188,000 of those long-term.

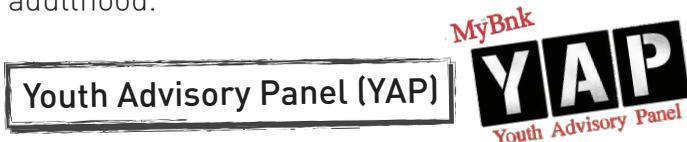

Government initiatives to support entrepreneurialism, like Start-up Loans and Enterprise Allowances, work best when skills are developed earlier. The ability to assess risk and learn from failure improves soft and employability skills such as leadership, communication and problem-solving. Everyone needs enterprise skills, even if you are not starting your own business.

How We Do It

Our motto is “every young person must be wowed”. Through youth friendly workshops, we enable participants to gain practical skills like budgeting and selling as they explore and form their own opinions regarding their relationship with money.

MyBnk takes a holistic approach to education, using real life case studies, colourful resources, games, videos and links to popular culture to bring it to life. We also cater for audio, visual and kinaesthetic learners with many extensions and ability variations. Some young people have low self-confidence, so sessions challenge negative attitudes, and build self-belief to help them move forward financially into adulthood.

How do you make learning about interest rates and pensions fun for young people? Put them at the heart of it! Our YAP is made up of a diverse mix of 11-25 year olds who take an active role in co-designing programmes.

"I received a lot of support from MyBnk with structuring and guidance when setting up my business."
 Bejay Mulenga, 21, Chief Purpose Officer, Supa Academy.

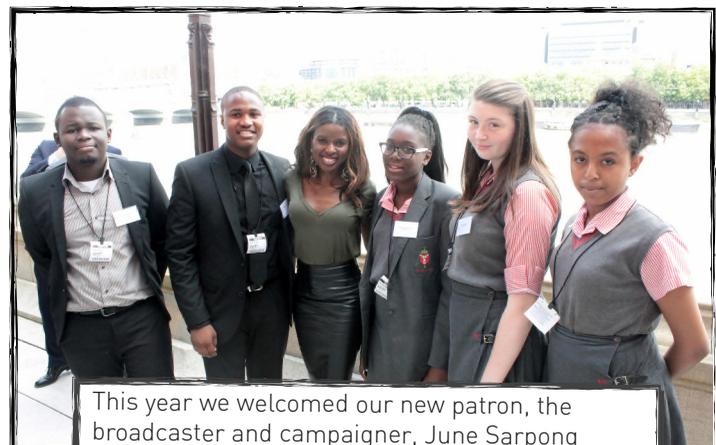

They adjudicated in the awarding of six Jack Petchey Youth Achievement Awards for students running our banking scheme and helped run our second youth festival. The YAP shared their wisdom on BBC Radio 1's 'Golden Rules of Money' programme, took part in our enterprise events, spoke at the launch of the Money Advice Service's Financial Capability Strategy for the UK, benefited from work experience at our offices, and received master classes from the likes of Osper and Plotr to improve their creative and communications skills.

Testimonial: Teacher

"For several years MyBnk's lessons have helped us achieve better outcomes for our Year 7 and 10 students in the financial education part of both the PSHCE and Maths curriculum.

We are extremely impressed with the level they pitch their sessions at as well as the care they offer all of our students. Every year our students are thoroughly engaged. MyBnk makes managing money an accessible and interesting topic. Our teachers regularly remark that the workshops are extremely well planned and how engaging their trainers are". Olivia Lester, Head of PSHCE, Mossbourne Community Academy, London.

This year we welcomed our new patron, the broadcaster and campaigner, June Sarpong OBE, who played a central role in our House of Lords Summer Showcase celebrating the impact of our work on the lives of young people.

Impact

Does it work? Can you prove it? Since inception, MyBnk has demonstrated a commitment to monitoring and evaluation that is unrivalled in our sector. For every session, we collect impact data from teachers, facilitators and young people. Participants complete baseline and end line questionnaires and go on to join focus groups and give interviews to track longer-term impact.

Money Advice Service: Evidence Hub

Our flagship Money Twist workshops for 11-18 year olds were rated as 'Effective' by the government's Money Advice Service, meaning we improved young people's money skills, abilities and mindsets. They also found that direct, expert-run and independent delivery of money lessons achieved better results than teacher training or volunteering.

Our survival money management programme, Money Works, won the Leaving Care Award at the Children & Young People Now Awards!

As part of the Financial Capability Strategy for the UK, the joint University of Bristol study scrutinised dozens of schemes from the youth and financial services sector, including state initiatives, and examined 'what works' in an effort to raise standards and outcomes.

Increase in capability

We looked at our impact by topic and type of outcome, measuring changes in young people's knowledge, skills and attitudes - collecting over 100,000 pieces of data from 20,000 participants in the process. The biggest change we see is in 'Personal Finance', the most technical area, containing, for example, knowledge of tax, credit and the impact of inflation.

After completing a MyBnk workshop there was a 67 percentage point (pp) improvement in 'knowing what APR is', a 58pp rise in being able to calculate income tax, a 30pp increase in 'profit forecasting' programme and a 45pp rise in confidence 'understanding the new benefits system'.

"The work of MyBnk is vital in ensuring the next generation of consumers is financially literate. MyBnk's support of the Financial Capability Strategy for the UK has been incredibly useful and their work on the ground demonstrates their real commitment to its aims for young people." Caroline Rookes, Chief Executive Money Advice Service.

Impact - After MyBnk sessions, young people...

- Prevention, spending - 26%p rise in identifying their needs and wants.
- Vulnerable, budgeting - 42%p rise in ability to budget.
- Independence, planning - 38%p rise in clearly understanding utility bills.
- Planning, pensions - 66% rise in understanding how they work.
- Transition, student finance - 97% of students understanding loans, grants, bursaries and scholarships.

Testimonial: Youth Worker

"This is the third year we have had MyBnk workshops and the information and youth friendly, interactive way they deliver it is fantastic for our young people. Especially given many are about to go into independent living, they are very vulnerable to getting into debt. What MyBnk does empowers them and is relatable to them. As social workers, we don't have the time to go into the depth and style of delivery that MyBnk does. They are now an integral part of our programme of support here and we've made it compulsory for every young person." Karena Brown, Education Officer, Hounslow Leaving Care Unit.

Quality

MyBnk Education Officers are observed quarterly, tested on core subject knowledge six times a year, and complete on going professional development modules, like behaviour management and safeguarding. During 2014/15, we supported a team of 35 trainers and freelancers. Client ratings improved even further as we retained more trainers who became qualified in new programmes.

Development of programmes

We use trainer, teacher and young people's feedback, impact data, changes in laws and policies, and our Youth Advisory Panel to help us revise and improve programmes, keeping them fresh, relevant and effective.

"MyBnk helps put our vision into practice, engaging youth in their innovative and participatory programmes, committing to quality throughout, and making and measuring a significant positive impact." Jane Rawnsley, Head of Group Corporate Responsibility, Prudential plc.

MyBnk S.U.P.E.R. Methodology: (Specialist, Unique, Participatory, Effective and Relevant)

This year saw our intervention programme, Money Works, evolve to suit a greater mix of young people in transitional moments of their lives. Demand has grown 87%, especially from groups such as those not in education, employment or training. Tailored content incorporated wider use of Universal Credit and complemented employability programmes run by organisations like The Prince's Trust.

We also upped the ante for young people on our enterprise programmes by placing a greater emphasis on creating and adding value to their ideas, rather than just replicating products and services. This included corporate challenges at companies like Blackstone and Innovate Finance to build working apps!

Testimonial: Young Person

"MyBnk has been an amazing opportunity that's given me a chance to learn more about the world of finance and enterprise. Through MyBnk's 'Money Twist' programme, I've learnt how to budget, how an everyday bank is managed and most importantly how to manage my own finances.

Before MyBnk I used to spend loads of money unnecessarily; I'm sure that's the case for many young people. I now know how important it is for young people to learn about money management so they don't get caught cold later in life."

Devonte Sackitey, 13, St Michael's Catholic College.

New programmes

Our two pilot programmes, Sporty Money Twist and Mind Your Own Business, joined the official suite of workshops, allowing more young people to learn about personal finance through physical activities and experience a deeper enterprise education challenge to hone employability skills.

Case Study: Mind Your Own Business

"I took the lead in an enterprise programme being run at my college. My team of six went from drawing board to Romford Road Market in just two weeks using an interest free loan of £40 making sweets, candles and bath products. We learnt how to sell and cost, create business plans and gained communication, budgeting and team working skills. Our team made £95, that's 237.5% profit!"

Kevin, 19, Havering College.

Hubs, Consultation & Collaboration

Through our consultation and collaboration arm we distribute our training and intellectual property. We operate three hubs in England through direct delivery or local partnerships.

England

South West

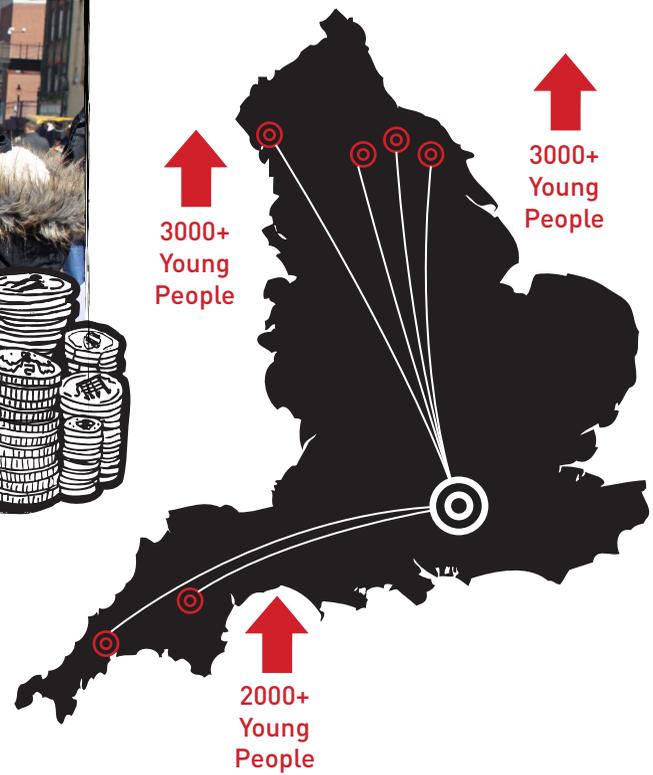

In its second year, our South West hub saw delivery double and expand to Devon. We have also branched out to mainstream colleges, alongside existing out-of-school provision with disadvantaged young people.

North East

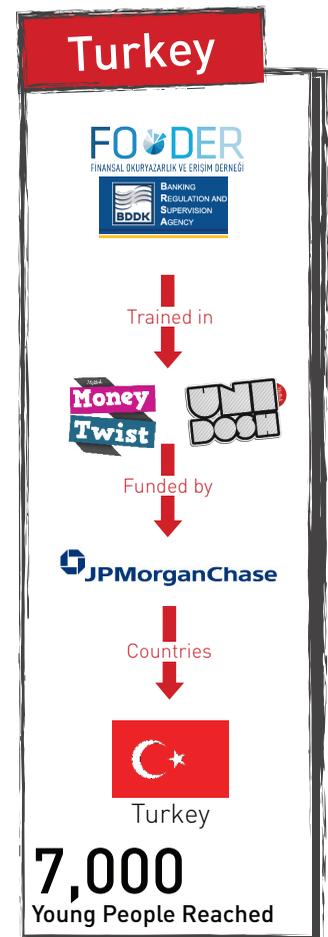

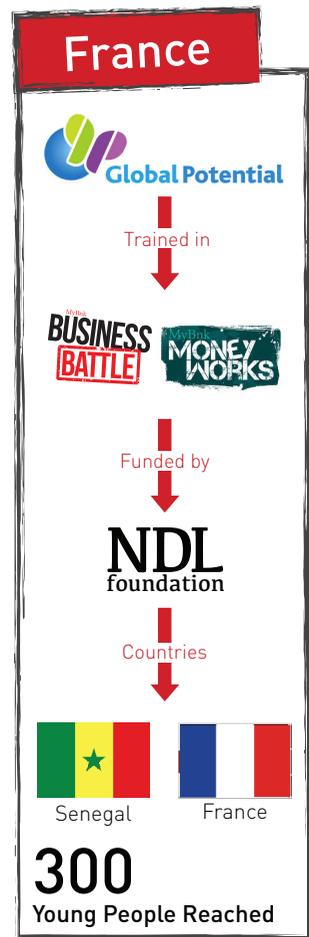

Delivery of MyBnk's programmes continues to help young people via schools and youth organisations in the Darlington, Hartlepool, Middlesbrough, Redcar & Cleveland and Stockton-On-Tees areas.

North West

Our franchise partner, the Cumbria Youth Alliance, continues to focus on disadvantaged and hard to reach youth in deprived areas of the region, and engages with large employers, such as Pirelli and Gen2.

Internationally, we assist groups who are 'Powered by MyBnk' under their own brand. This year we trained...

Bills make more sense now. MyBnk also helped me understand my minimum wage rights and went through my last payslip and tax-free allowances - I'm going to talk with my boss tomorrow! Like APR, I had heard of a lot of these things but didn't know what they meant." Julie, 18, Hounslow Leaving Care Unit.

Reaching out

MyBnk supports wider efforts that promote financial capability, enterprise and work readiness for young people.

Global Money Week

8,000 young people learned how to master money as MyBnk, in association with Children and Youth Finance International, ran workshops, youth-led saving banks and marketplace enterprise loan challenges across the UK. 1,000 young people entered our 'Demotivator' Savings Competition, sponsored by The Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales.

Global Entrepreneurship Week

500 young people brought their enterprise ideas to life in marketplace and social enterprise challenges. Our specialist idea-generation resources were downloaded 400 times by teachers and youth workers for the Kauffman Foundation & Youth Business International

Despite receiving a large amount of pocket money, Saskia does not have a bank account meaning "money is always in my face" and she spends cash on clothes, shoes and junk.

"With no bank, I just feel tempted to spend it. After MyBnk, I want to open a savings account and cut down my spending. I've really enjoyed them coming to my school. They showed me why and how to use banks. When I go to university I don't want to be in a situation where I'm borrowing."

Our young bankers helped ring the opening bell at the London Stock Exchange and we delivered sessions at the British Museum and Innovate Finance Global Summit.

Youth Financial Capability Group

MyBnk is a founding member of the Youth Financial Capability Group, comprising of organisations committed to unbiased, relevant and effective financial education. This year we worked together to help shape the government's Money Advice Service Financial Capability Strategy for the UK, with a particular focus on the children and youth strand. MyBnk is joined on the group by ifs University College, Personal Finance Education Group, National Skills Academy for Financial Services, The Money Charity and Stewart Ivory (Scotland).

Policy

MyBnk works to improve financial and enterprise education's standing in the curriculum and in national guidelines. We share our insights and data from working on the frontline to inform policy makers and to promote wider issues influencing the development and aspirations of young people.

Central to our policy efforts this year has been consulting with the Money Advice Service on their Financial Capability Strategy for the UK. Our Quality & Training and Education teams gave feedback on draft outcomes and measurement indicators which honed definitions on how one becomes financially capable and what that means.

Together with the Youth Financial Capability Group, our efforts helped result in better processes like addressing the needs of young adults and children separately, rather than as one group. MyBnk Founder & Co-CEO, Lily Lapenna, sits on the initiative's board and, along with young people from our programmes, played a central role in helping to officially launch the strategy in Westminster. It now provides the sector with a roadmap to achieving financial capability in the next decade and holding our sector to an agreed set of principles, values and key indicators – supported by practical pilots and projects.

"Teachers should take advantage of the support available from organisations like MyBnk and be part of the conversation about what makes financial education effective and engaging for children and young people through the Financial Capability Strategy." Mark Garner MP, Chair of All Party Parliamentary Group on Financial Education for Young People.

"Thanks to MyBnk I actually understand the student loan system! I really understand now how to survive and budget at uni." Zakariye, 19, London School of Economics - Uni Dosh.

We continue to make the case for proper funding for effective financial education in UK schools and join others in campaigning for quality, accountability and measurement of money lessons in the classroom. MyBnk also backed the PSHE Association's push for compulsory Personal, Social, Health and Economic Education in schools.

Case Study: Sporty Money Twist

"Saving is the last thing I think about but I'm always broke and my mum is sick of lending me small bits of money all the time."

I enjoyed the games we did because it was fun, entertaining and something different. I learnt that it's important to prioritise; to know what you want and what you need and to know the difference between them. Young people need to know about this stuff!"
Georgina, 16, Essex Boys & Girls Club, National Citizen Service.

Communications

Through press, television and radio, we share the impact of our programmes, celebrate the achievements of young people, and raise awareness about the importance of financial and enterprise education.

The Guardian and Independent frequently showcased our work, as did prominent trade publications, such as Teach Secondary, Money Management and Children & Young People Now. Our experts also hit the airwaves bringing insights on issues, such as youth unemployment and debt, to shows including BBC Radio 4 and Reuters News.

Children are the Future

By Iona Bain

I want to believe that financial education, officially on the English curriculum for the first time this year, is successfully making money a priority for teenagers. But MyBnk, a trusted authority on this matter, has told the government's education committee in a written submission in November that it still "remains very concerned as to the lack of examination, assessment and outcomes in relation to financial education", the same position it held back in February.
